

Free taught History of Art Extended Project Qualification (EPQ) course alongside two A level Art History modules for state-supported sixth form students at the Wallace Collection or the National Gallery

- A level History of Art taught on term-time Saturdays by an experienced teacher in a condensed format of 2.5 hours per week, followed by an EPQ/homework club from late September 2019 - July 2020
- One course is based at the Wallace Collection, Manchester Square, London WC2, on term-time Saturday mornings, the other at the National Gallery, Trafalgar Square, W1, on term-time Saturday afternoons and using collections at other London museums and galleries as appropriate to the course

Application is online and takes 5 minutes: <https://arthistorylinkup.org/apply/> Deadline 9th September although students are encouraged to apply as soon as possible. All places are offered at no charge to state maintained sector sixth form students, with priority to candidates from a widening participation background, and to those with aptitude and ability for the course.

Benefits for students:

- Additional qualification: EPQ equivalent to half an A-level in UCAS points
- Students have the option of continuing to study a further two modules and sitting the Pearson/ Edexcel A level Art History exam at the end of a second year of the course
- The course is structured around examples of art and architecture which can be experienced and studied at first-hand in our great collections
- Access to careers/FE seminars; work experience placements
- EPQ/homework club following class
- Exam entry, and other administration, is organised by Art History Link-Up. Study materials are included
