

ART HISTORY

LINK
UP

THE WALLACE
COLLECTION

ART HISTORY

FREE EXTENDED PROJECT QUALIFICATION (EPQ) COURSE
TAUGHT ALONGSIDE A LEVEL ART HISTORY MODULES
FOR STATE SCHOOL STUDENTS ON TERM-TIME SATURDAYS
- Classes at The National Gallery and The Wallace Collection -

Apply NOW

- deadline: 5pm Monday 9th September 2019 - arthistorylinkup.org/apply students@arthistorylinkup.org

From Sept 2019 - July 2020

Taught Art History EPQ/A level courses on term-time Saturdays in a condensed format of 2.5 hours a week, followed by homework club

- Additional EPQ qualification (half an A-level in UCAS points)
- Option to continue to study a further two modules in a second year and sit the A level Art History exam
- Access to Careers seminars and Work Experience, past placements include V&A, Royal Collection, Scala Publishers, Art UK, HENI Talks + more
- EPQ/homework club after class, with snacks, plus EPQ and careers mentoring, and alumni network membership
- Exam entry, and other administration, is organised by Art History Link-Up. Study materials are included

 arthistorylinkup.org

 @arthistorylinkup

 @ArtHistLinkUp

Art History for Everyone at the Wallace Collection is generously supported by the Wallace Collection, the Band Trust and other supporters. Art History for Everyone at the National Gallery is generously supported by the National Gallery, the Rothschild Foundation, the Duke of Devonshire's Charitable Trust, the Foyle Foundation and the Worshipful Company of Grocers'. Art History for Everyone is managed by Art History Link-Up, a registered charity, no. 1172792: info@arthistorylinkup.org