

Free History of Art Extended Project Qualification (EPQ) course taught alongside two A level Art History modules for state-maintained sixth form students taught online, and pandemic permitting, as a hybrid course with some students based at The Wallace Collection or the National Gallery

- A level History of Art taught on term-time Saturdays by an experienced teacher in a condensed format of 2.5 hours per week, from September 2020 - July 2021
- Courses will start entirely online in September. Public health and gallery conditions permitting, it is envisaged that some students will be based at the Wallace Collection, London WC2, with others at the National Gallery, London W1, as in previous years
- It is envisaged that some students will remain online and the course will be delivered as a hybrid online and 'in real life' course

APPLICATION IS ONLINE AND TAKES 5 MINUTES
arthistorylinkup.org/apply/student-application

Deadline 7th September, although students are encouraged to apply as soon as possible

All places are offered at no charge to state-maintained sector sixth form students, with priority to candidates from a widening participation background, and to those with aptitude and ability for the course

BENEFITS FOR STUDENTS

- Additional qualification: EPQ equivalent to half an A level in UCAS points
- Students have the option of continuing to study a further two modules and sitting the Pearson/ Edexcel A level Art History exam at the end of a second year of the course
- Access to, familiarity with and understanding of, great works of art in the capital's public collections. The course is structured around examples of art and architecture which can be experienced and studied at first hand in our great collections
- EPQ/homework support offered, plus EPQ mentoring by specialists
- Access to careers/FE seminars, work experience placements and membership of alumni club
- Relevance and application for Art & Design students, at A level and beyond, and a wide range of other subjects
- Exam entry, and other administration, is organised by Art History Link-Up